$200 Offered Free!
OFFICE FIRST NATIONAL BANK, NASHVILLE, TENN., April 6, 1895.
PROF. J. F. DRACON, PRES. DRACON'S PRACTICAL BUSINESS COLLEGE, NASHVILLE, TENN.
DANCE SUE—The time for which you deposited $100 three months ago today as a forfeit under your proposition to give $100 to any charitable institution in Nashville and $500 to any business college south of the Ohio River, if you could not show more written applications for book keepers and stenographers during the PAST FIVE MONTHS than any other business college south of the Ohio River could show in the PAST FIVE YEARS, has this day expired, and no demand having been made, the same is now held subject to your check. Respectfully,
W. F. BAGO, Cashier.
N. B.—A certificate of deposit for the above was published in the daily papers of Nashville, the Cincinnati Enquirer, the Atlanta Constitution, and thirty thousand circulars, giving the college three months time to accept. Nashville Daily American, April 7, 1895.

Wednesday the 23rd instant, the President of the United States was Atlanta's honored guest, and the day was set apart by the exposition as the nations day.

Hon. R. W. Davis an ex-speaker of the Florida house of representatives, and a very prominent man in that state says; that three-fourth of his fellow citizens favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

They are having sand-storms in the Northwest now. They will soon be having blizzards, and later on will be enjoying famine and drouth. Just why a farmer should not move out of that country into the genial Southland passes comprehension.—Ex.

The United States gunboat Nashville was launched at Newport News Saturday last. The event was one of great interest to the people of the city for whom the new vessel has been named.

A GENTLE HINT.
Said the old delinquent. "Without a doubt
You got off a right slick piece."
Said the editor: "Yes; all the ink is out,
And we're running on axle grease!"—Ex.

The Pennsylvania company is watching with a good deal of interest the growing demand for the politic stone of Bedford, Ind., in eastern cities. During the past three years the shipments of this stone have been increasing at a rapid rate, and at present the Pennsylvania lines are handling from 100 to 150 carloads each week. Huge blocks of stone from Bedford, Ind., quarries pass through Pittsburg almost every day bound for Philadelphia, New York and other seaboard cities. It is a splendid stone for building purposes and very easy to work into any desirable shape. The name is derived from the Greek word signifying an egg, and another word which signifies a rock. It is made of minute fossils resembling the roe of fishes, hence its name oolitic.—Fort Wayne Sentinel.

The above stone is the same that our Mexican Monument is built of.

In accordance with a recent scheme, the government in Russia is soon to have entire control of the manufacture and sale of liquor in that country, with the avowed purpose to prevent the drunkenness and oppression fostered by the system of saloons kept by private persons. The new plan is to be put into operation gradually, being introduced in part of the country on July 1, 1896; in another part on July 1, 1897, and in the remainder on January 1, 1898.

We dislike to be asked to suppress any item of news, as we frequently are, it is better any way that such things should be published when the writer is fair and unprejudiced they will be written up just as they are, while on the contrary when gossip gets hold of it there is no telling how it may be enlarged.

The Philadelphia Evening Telegraph says:
"One thing may frankly and truthfully be said, in no part of this country today is the old fashioned American Sunday—a day of secession from secular labor, respectful quiet, and worship for all who are inclined—so generally observed as in the south. This fact is noted with extreme gratification by northern visitors, already unhappily familiar with current practices throughout this section, and the west particularly. There is to be no unseemly and costly contest over opening the Atlanta exposition on the first day of the week. There was a feeble effort in this direction, but it has been speedily disposed of, and in a characteristic way, by the directory, which unanimously voted to postpone all consideration of the subject. This course is taken in deference to local public sentiment and in accordance with fundamental American principles. Atlanta is a very busy city six days in the week. It is forging ahead in every element of material prosperity; but on Saturday night it lays aside the tools of labor and refrains from unnecessary trespass upon the rights of those who toil. In this respect the new south sets a healthful and inspiring example to the reckless cities of the west, which have almost abolished the American Sunday."

TERSE, TART AND TIMELY.

New York has one preacher who doesn't fear the rivalry of the saloons. Rev. Dr. Heber Newton advocates open Sunday saloons.

The sentiment in favor of a single term for our Presidents is unquestionably growing, and the country would gain by having it put into Constitutional effect.

At last the Goo Goos, of New York, are going to stand up and be counted, or rather, they say they are.

Gen. John Beatty, who ought to know, says the election of the republican ticket in Ohio will mean the making of every public appointment a source of revenue to boss Cox. Gen. Beatty is a republican, too.

The only reason the insane asylums are not filled to overflowing with those who have tried to master the intricacies of New York's municipal politics is that level-headed men do not try.

Secretary Olney has more sense in a minute than Sackville-West will have in a life-time; therefore he can be depended upon to ignore the latter's silly publication.

In view of the part the Mormon Church is now taking in the Utah campaign, those who opposed Utah's admission as a State will be excusable for saying, "I told you so."

For a dead animal the Tammany tiger seems to have the other fellows very badly frightened.

Gov. McKinley may wish when the votes are counted that he had made all his speeches in Ohio, instead of stretching them into Kentucky and Maryland.

If some of the loudest-mouthed politicians occupied the position of President Cleveland they would be just as cautious as he is in dealing with the Cuban question. Precipitancy has never been considered a part of wise statesmanship.

Lemuel Eli Quigg still rides the Waller nightmare, in his New York paper. Poor fellow! he seems to be incurable.

Lord Sackville spent seven years regretting his writing of a fool-letter; he will spend the remainder of his life regretting that he wrote that fool-pamphlet.

A Washington man offers to bet from $100 to $5,000 that Kentucky and Maryland will both go democratic. With a cinch like that he will have to give big odds to find takers.

Tom Platt will pay liberally for the successful muzzling of Warner Miller during the present New York campaign.

It is noticed that the republicans who tried so hard to nominate Grant for the third term are not foaming at the mouth at the possibility of a third term for President Cleveland.

Parkhurst, Strong and Platt are once more shouting for the same ticket in New York, but all the same that ticket won't win.

Well, well! Senator Peffer drops calumny howling and admits prosperous times, but Senator Sherman—rich John Sherman—takes up the calumny wall where Peffer left it.

When Hon. Don M. Dickinson said that Lord Sackville West "is now, and has always been an infernal ass" he expressed the universal American opinion.

The Harrison and McKinley men are developing a feud that must be very comforting to the other aspirants for the republican nomination.

The republicans are still objecting to cheap clothes and blankets for Americans. Senator Sherman says an attempt will be made at the coming session of Congress to put a duty on wool.

Victor Smith says yachting beats everything for sport, but he probably didn't mean international yachting.

Tammany ought to be mighty glad that Carl Schurz is on the other side. He has few equals as a hoodoo.

The Emperor William has developed a liking for Turkey that may interfere very seriously with John Bull's plans.

A BIG DRIVE

We have just received a big line of LADIES CLOAKS..

That we bought at one-fourth their value. We are going to close them out at the following prices.

One lot in Black, Blue and Tan, at $1.65, worth $500.

Another lot, extra fine, all wool, nicely trimmed. Black, Black and Tan, at $2.45.

These cloaks are very fine and would retail in any city at $75.0. We haven't got over one hundred of these cloaks, and at the price we are making on them, they will all go in a very short time. VERY RESPECTFULLY

THE JOINER DRY GOODS CO.

WHERE ARE THOSE FLOWERS.

"Where are those flowers that bloomed in June,
Those flowers that were so sweet;
Whose fragrant lips at morn's first hour,
With life's full pulse did beat?
Yes, where are those sweet emblems bright,
That used to fill the vale
With fumes of incense ever sweet,
And beautify the dale?
I sadly whisper, they are gone,
Bright summer's fairest flowers:
They lie entoned in leafy graves,
That sleep 'neath sylvan bowers.
Those lovely flowers that bloomed in June,
Were beautiful and sweet;
When on their lips were visible,
The tread of dewy feet.
But aught that's animate must die.
The beautiful and pure;
Alike the wicked and corrupt
Are ne'er from death secure.
Thus passed away those flowers of June,
Mid nature's wildest bowers:
They perished, for their lives were but
One fleeting week of hours."

"Having of a Benevolent Home and knowing the good Dr. Miles' Nervine has done me, my wish to help others, overcomes my dislike for the publicity, this letter may give me. In Nov. and Dec., 1893, The inmates had the 'LaGrippe,' and I was one of the first. Resuming duty too soon, with the care of so many sick, I did not regain my health, and in a month I became so debilitated and nervous from sleeplessness and the drafts made on my vitality, that it was a question if I could go on. A dear friend advised me to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I took 2 bottles and am happy to say, I am in better health than ever. I still continue its occasional use, as a nerve food, as my work is very trying. A letter addressed to Milwaukee, Wis., will reach me." June 6, 1894. MRS. LAURA C. PHOENIX.
